IDC Health Insights is evaluating the revenues of leading global technology and service suppliers within the healthcare payer and provider services industry in order to build the 2017 HealthTech Rankings.

Two categories of companies are ranked:

1. HealthTech Rankings: Top 50 – vendors that derive more than one-third of their revenue from healthcare payer and/or provider institutions
2. HealthTech Rankings: Enterprise 25 – enterprise companies serving multiple industries that derive less than one-third of their revenues from healthcare payer and/or provider institutions

"With hundreds of global technology and service providers supplying solutions and services for the healthcare market today, the IDC Health Insights HealthTech Rankings will serve as an invaluable industry benchmark for end-users and IT suppliers alike," said Research Vice President Lynne A. Dunbrack of IDC Health Insights.
